ADDITIONAL TELEGRAPH 42d CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, May 1. HOUSE.

During the morning hour bills were reported from the Committee on Indian Affairs, and acted on by the House, among them are the following: Regulating the mode of making private contracts with Indians, passed; to authorize the U. S. Circuit Court for Indiana, to make a portion of the reservation of the band of Miami Indiana, passed; to provide for the sale of certain Indian lands in Kansas, passed; authorizing the removal of resale of certain Indian lands in Kansas, passed; authorizing the removal of restrictions on sales of certain Indian lands in Kansas, passed; to provide for the removal of the Kansas tribe of Indians to Indian Territory, and dispose of their lands in Kansas, to actual settlers only, passed.

At the close on the morning near the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill, and was ad-dressed by Mr. Kirller, of Pennsylvania, who gave notice that he would, at the close of the general debate on Friday next, move to strike out the enacting clause and direct the Committee on Ways se and direct the Committee on Ways and Means to report back the substitute offered on behalf of himself and Mr. May offered on behalf of himself and Mr. May-NAID. He said he believed he was serving the country in teaching protection at all times. He referred to the pending bill as a poor, fatherless thing, known only by its number and a cruel satire on the catch word of free trade and revenue relorm, by which it was popularized. He trusted that in 1876 the world would find America a free and unterval nation with the whole a free and untaxed nation, with the whole Internal Revenue abolished. Mr. Wood said the Democratic party was in favor of the abolition of the Internal Revenue system, Mr. BROOKS, and of in-creasing tariff duties.

Mr. WAREMAN spoke in favor of pro-

Mr. STEVENSON was not. He spoke of Secretary Boutwell as the most magnifi-cent miser that the world had ever known. He supported the bill as one which con-tained no selfish projects or jobs as one of the Revenue Reform pledge, and an earnest of honesty on which he congratulated the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. CONNER followed in a free trade

The committee rose and Mr. NEGLEY withdrew his bill introduced last Mon withdraw mis bill introduced last mon-day, providing for the settlement of the accounts of railroad companies. He said he had introduced it on information that some of his constituents were interested in it, but he had since learned that such was not the tact, and as he felt no interest in it he withdrew it.

The House took a recess till 7 o'clock.
The evening session will be devoted to territorial business.

SENATE.

A bill was passed changing the time for holding the United States courts for the southern district of Wisconain.

A bill was passed repealing the provisions of the army appropriation act of 1500 architectures. 1870, prohibiting promotions in the staff of Mr. PATTERSON, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported without amendment the House bill to confirm the action of the Alderman and Common Council of the city of Wash ington, designating a depot site for the Baltimore & Potomac Railroad and for purposes.

TRUMBULL, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill authorizing terms of the U.S. District Court to be held at Ft Gibson, Indian Territory; also, without amendment, the House bill to fix the terms of the U. S. Circuit Courts in the 8th District.

Mr. Stockton, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill referring to the Court of Claims the claims of the representatives of the late Rear Admiral representatives of the late Kear Admiral Dahlgreen, for the use of his gun by the U. S. Government, passed; to regulate elections in Washington and Idaho Ter-The Senate then took up the Naval Apprepriation bill.

Mr. Cragin, on behalf of the Committee on Naval Affairs, moved an amendment appropriating $40,000 to make experiments in converting the smooth bore gues in the navy, into rifled gues.

Upon this amendment a long discussion arose, in the course of which Messrs.

TRUMBULL and STEVENSON charged the Navy Department with extravagance and maladministration and Messrs. Charge Charge. ainistration, and Messrs. CRAGIN FRELINGHOYSEN and CONKLING defended the Dispartment and Secretary of the Navy. The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Srockron offered an amendment providing that the pay of chief engineers in the navy for the next fiscal year shall be the same as that now fixed by law for naval constructions. Agreed to. The bill was then passed and the Senate

The Kentucky Bank Rebbery.

Louisville, May 1—The President of the Bank at Columbia, Adair county robbed Monday afternoon by five methas offered twenty-five hundred dollars for them. The raid was one of the most daring ever made, and the utterly heartless villians got about seventy thousand dollars, mostly in bords.

CINCINNATI, May 1.—The long looked for day for the assembling of the two for day for was a dashing rain which somewhat in-terfered with out door movements. The trains the night preceding and early this all times to receive them, whether it be in morning had brought many reinforce-ments, so the well filled city of the even-ing before had but lew places at the open ground chosen by us. At this hour Judge M. B. Caldwell, President of the Reunion and Reform Association called the Convention to order and nomina-ted J. B. Stallo of Cincinnati temporary President. Judge Stalloon appearing on the stage was met with considerable ap-plause. He then delivered the following address:

JUDGE STALLO'S ADDRESS. While I am profoundly sensible of the nor you have conferred upon me by selecting me as the temporary chairman of this Convention. I approach theattempt to discharge the duties thus devolved upon me with great diffidence. I very much fear that, as Reformers, who promoto tear that, as reformers, who propose to inaugurate the practice of selecting men for the discharge of public trusts with a single regard to merits, you have made a somewhat inauspicious beginning, for I am sadly deficient in all qualifications, including the great physical vigor and thorough familiarity with parliamentary usage and rule, without parliamentary usage and rule, without which it is impossible satisfactorily to preside over your deliberations, even for a brief hour, but I bow to your decision, a brief hour, but I bow to your decision, trusting that there is some promise of success in the honesty of my endeavor. With the purposes for which the Convention has been called, and the circumstances under which we have met, you are all familiar. We are here as independent cittzens of the American republic. We have emerged from a conflict which involved the very life of the nation. That conflict is now ended.

the nation. That conflict is now ended the nation. That conflict is now ended, and the nation lives. The old home of our fathers is still the home of the whole American family, of all its children, native and adopted. That home has been beautified and enlarged, but it has not been divided. The Union is unbroken. Wherever in all the land an American freeman turns his eye heavenward, he beholds its sacred emblem, the old flag, and there are none but freemen now to behold it. The old aspirations always rise.

You meet here with the firm resolve to preserve as recollections so much only of the past as is necessary in order wisely to profit by its lessons, and to con-sign to oblivion whatever though it origisign to obliviou wintever though its origi-namated in honest impulses ended in bitterness and anger. You have been ar-rayed against each other upon questions which the voice of history has answered. You have been divided as by a cloud, which has not only ceased to be flery, but which has been wholly dispelled. Y have been engaged in the trials and issu have been engaged in the trials and issues which have been settled irrevocably and forever. In the clear light of dispassionate reflection you see that the issues left to be decided are issues of to-day, and not of yesterday; that all the problems which present themselves to the American people for present salvation, are problems of peace; and that the questions of the future find expression not in watchwords of camps that have long since been abandoned, or in the slogans of parties that have degenerated slogans of parties that have degenerated but in the articulated demands resulting from the practical necessities of the hour. Having met here in this spirit, and with these convictions, you would not permit me to address you by NEW YORK CITY.

HOPPMAN'S VETO OF THE CHARTER—WHAT THE PAPERS BAY ABOUT IT.

New York May 1.—The Tribune says:
"Governor Hoffman has veloed our reformed city charter, as was expected. It his reasons had been sound, his message would not have been half so long. The gist of them is that this charter proposes to do something differently from the way which they heretofore have been done. However the charter is dead, and there is no time to make another. So the city must go on for a year under Tweed's contrivances, as the best way." On motion of E. W. Kitridge, of Ohio there was authorized the appointment of a Committee on Permanent Organization to consist of one from each State, the representatives from each State to recommend some member to represent them in the Convention. The Convention was subsequently directed to provide for the order of business, and Capt. J. P. Santmayer, of Ohio, Joshua Stark, of Wisconsin, and J. A. Bockingham, of Illinois, were appointed temporary secretaries.

The motion prevailed for the call of States, and after the call of Maine the motion was made to postpone the call until next session. At eleven o'clock a recess was taken until three o'clock. The recess was aken until three o'clock. The number present at this hour had consid-erably increased during the session. The chair occupied by Gen. Harrison while President of the United States, and intended for the presiding officers of this Convention was brought on the platform, but the people did not seem to realize what was transpiring, and there was no The Reunion and Reform Convention The Reunion and Reform Convention reassembled at twenty minutes after 3 o'clock, Judge Stallo in the chair, the number in attendance being about the same as in the forenoon. BOARD OF · EDUCATION .-- A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening at the usual place and hour.

GONE TO WELLSBURG,-Judge Melvin for that County.

Next Monday, he goes to Moundaville, we believe, to hold a two weeks' term. nd then will be commence a summer campaign in this county.

NEW CHURCH.—The site for a Catholic hurch in the Eighth Ward has been purchased, and ground will be broken within the next week preparatory to the erection of the building. The location is a central one. It is the intention, we hear, to erect a fine structure, and to have it finished during the present year.

PRESS ASSOCIATION .- The Press Asso ciation of this State will meet at 10 o'clock this morning, in the parlors of the St. this lim James Hotel. In the evening a public meeting will be held in the chamber of Office at the National Savings Bank, No. 2 the Second Branch of the City Council. It is expected that an address will be delivered and a poem read at the evening session, to which a cordial invitation is en tended to the public.

> SHIPMENT TO SCOTLAND.—As evidence that Wheeling manufactures have a reputation not only in this country but in foreign land we state, that a few days ago a number of reaping machines made by the Superior Company of this city, ere shipped to Edinburgh, Scotland. As the Scotch are proverbial for knowing when they have a good thing, this purchase of Superior machines is regarded as a high compliment HELD TO BAIL.-A colored man named Fielding Jones was arrested last evening, by Constable Exley, and taken before Judge Johnston to answer the charge of being the father of an illegitimate child held to bail in the sum of four hundred dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court. He found a bonds man and was released from custody.

TRANSFERRED. The inmates of the Children's Home were transferred, yester-day, from the building occupied since its establishment, to that purchased recently Sixth streets, Extensive changes are to be made to the last mentioned building, which, when completed, will make the Home a credit to the city and an honor to the friends of this noble charity.

iously hurt in the coal mine of the Belmont Mill, yesterday morning, by a fall of earth and rocks from the roof. We heard the name (Gilligan) of only one of them; that of the other our informant could not give. So serious were their injuries that it is feared they cannot survive. One was conveyed to the Hospital in North Wheeling; the other was so badly hurt that he could not be removed. He was entirely unconscious last evening, and not expected to live through the night.

THROWING STONES,-Our attention has een called to the fact that a number of boys in the neighborhood of the Glass House, in the Eighth Ward, are in the habit of stoning nearly every passenger train which passes that point. Yesterday

Lee in your report of the trial of the case of the State against Robinson, published in the INTELLIANCE IT is see of yesterday, the following:
"During the time between the adjourntrain which passes that point. Yesterday morning a stone was hurled through a car window and came near striking a gentleman from Kentucky in the face. This may be fun for the boys, but it is anything else for the railroad company and its passengers. We are authorized to say that arrangements have been made to capture the perpetrators of these outrages and that when caught their punishmen will be to the full extent of the law, even if that should be to sending them to the penitentiary for a term of years. The railroad company has endured this ston-ing business as long as it intends to, and Parasols & Lace Points, fair notice is now given that it must cease at once, or the offenders will be hung, drawn or quartered, or their equivalent

Look out boys!

Correction.-The report of the habeau corpus case before Judge Melvin last Tuesday, which appeared in the INTEL-LIGENCER the morning following, was not strictly accurate as it regards the position of the Prosecuting Attorney, J. H. Good, Esqr., on the question of admitting Robinson to bail. The statement is made in the report, that the Attorney for the State and those for the prisoner, in the presence of His Honor, talked the matter over, and an arrangement was effected which resulted in an order releasing Robinson on ball for his appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court. What Mr. G. assented to was, a proposition to submit the case to the Court without argument-a wholly different thing from the quotation (in substance) above given. We make this correction in justice to Mr. G., who, as Prosecuting Attorney, is careful and vigilant that no intraction of the criminal laws of the State shall go unpunished.

POLICE COURT.-Drunks were in the ascendant yesterday morning, in the police court, there being no other class of offenders in the cells awaiting trial, the woman either has the balance of the Adam Ferguson, Albert Prince and Jo-seph McKinzie were severally arraigned on the charge mentioned. The testimony against them was brief but very direct. Each one was fined a dollar and costs. McKinzie was quite an old man, hailing he said, from Westmoreland county, Pa He was a stranger here, and not posted on the strength of Wheeling whisky. A drink or two had thrown him off his feet and if let off this time, he would have no more of it. Judge Good, in view of all these reasons, or others equally as cogent, consented to suspend the payment of the fine if the prisoner would leave the city at once. The defendant accepted the proposition and, shouldering his traps, made a bee line for Westmoreland, or some other locality.

Robinson Case. To the Editors of the Intelligencer.

"During the time between the adjourn-ment of the Court and its reassembling at two o'clock, the matter was talked over between the attorney for the State and the attorneys for the prisoner, in the presence of Judge Melvin, and an arrangement was effected that resulted in the following order, admitting Pobinson to bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars, being made by the Judge."

sum of ten thousand dollars, being made oby the Judge."

Permit me to say that no such conversation took place, and that no such arrangement was made, as above reported, but upon the contrary I opposed the application for ball, believing that the officence was of such a character as not to be properly ballable under the statute. All I desire is to be correctly reported.
